

Protective Screens for LCD, LED & Plasma TVs

Protect and enhance
Your viewing pleasure

- Does a shiver run down your spine when one of the kids run at the new LED TV, armed with their favourite toy?
- Are you frustratingly closing curtains in the middle of the day so you can see what is on your LCD TV?
- Do you worry about losing the grip on your Wii remote and seeing it crash into your Plasma TV screen?

The result of all of these, and many many other every day household scenarios, can easily be avoided with Cocoon's TV shield. The TV shield is easily fitted (no screws or attachments required) and is available in all popular TV sizes from 26" to 52".

Cocoon's TV Shield is designed to protect LED, LCD and Plasma screens and comes with a limited Life Time Replacement Warranty.

With the ability to withstand up to a 2kg force, it will provide protection from that wayward remote or your child trying to give Thomas his car back through the screen:

The Cocoon TV shield is also designed to protect your screens from finger marks and dust making cleaning a breeze and avoids scratching the screen during the process. Add to this its unique patented design that cuts down glare and UV radiation, and it will not only protect your TV but will also provide for greater viewing pleasure .

Once you have attached Cocoon's TV Shield you won't even realize it is there

- Cuts UV radiation protecting the viewer
- Anti Glare provides relaxed viewing
- Makes cleaning easier and safer
- Provide a safer environment for kids
- Resists up to 2kg impact
